1	Commitment to Values:	As a member of cric, we are committed to a values-based approach. Broadly speaking, our activities aim to promote goals related to the environment, social issues, and good corporate governance, as well as aspects of justice (e.g., intergenerational equity, climate justice). Specific values are guided by, for example: • UN Sustainable Development Goals, • The Brundtland definition of sustainability, • The Evangelical Church in Germany's document "The Star We Live On Is Borrowed: Agenda 2030 as a Challenge for the Churches," • Pope Francis's encyclical Laudato Si' on care for our common home, • "Cooler Earth – Higher Benefits" (Third Edition) by the World Council of Churches.
2.	Promoting Values, Ethics, and Sustainability in Investment	Through our membership, we support the promotion of values, ethics, and sustainability (including cultural compatibility) in investment activities—whether through events, publications, or other measures.
3	Developing the Financial Sector as a Lever for the Socially Sustainable Transformation of the Economy	We are convinced that values-oriented investors and other financial service providers can make a significant contribution to a socially sustainable transformation.
4	Values and Impact Orientation in Asset Management	We have already implemented—or are currently implementing—a values- and impact-oriented investment strategy, and we are working to continuously expand and adapt it to promote values, social well-being, and sustainability.
5	Supporting the Expansion of Awareness-Raising, Information, and Educational Initiatives	Through our membership, we support appropriate measures to raise awareness and provide education, with the aim of further expanding and increasing the contribution of ethical and sustainable investment to the sustainable transformation of the economy.
6	Promotion of interdisciplinary research into investment ethics and critical, reflective discourse on ethical and sustainable investments	We support the critical and reflective analysis, evaluation, and discourse regarding ethical and sustainable investments, as well as relevant interdisciplinary research into investment ethics.
7	Visibility of cric membership	As a cric member, we participate in cric networking opportunities and—in a manner appropriate for us—draw attention to the benefits of cric membership. cric also highlights our membership in an appropriate manner. Feedback geben
